

Quiet Study Area

The library is on the first floor and is available for research and individual quiet study. There are computers with internet access and printing, scanning and photocopying facilities.

We deliver group and individual information skills sessions to help you with your studies:

- Access to print and online library resources
- Carrying out academic research
- Referencing and bibliographies

Make an appointment with the Librarian on the 4th floor or see the staff in the library.

Our Promise

No matter where you are, when or how you reach us, you will meet approachable, knowledgeable, caring staff whose key motivation is to help you with your studies and support your academic progress and future development.

Tourism & Hospitality Subject Guide

We are here to help all our learners get the most out of our good quality relevant sources for their study and research

Your Campus card is your Library card

You can borrow up to 8 books as an undergraduate or 10 books as a postgraduate

My Module Resources for reading lists

Click on the link at the top of the page, then enter your module title or code. For example:

Gastronomy or TLH334 will take you to the online reading list for this module

If you click on the book icon  next to each item, it will show you where the book is in the library.

If there are online resources in your reading list, the relevant icon will take you to the online location.

Library Catalogue for books

Just type in the author's surname and the main part of the title.

For example:

Anderson Everyone Eats

The catalogue will show it is available at London Library under -

394.12 AND this is the shelfmark

Make a note of this shelfmark and use this to find the book.

Once you find the number the books are shelved in alphabetical order.

Some books are available as e-books to read online after you log in.

The London Library Website

This tells you where things are and how to find them, for both printed and online sources.

You can find our opening hours and lots of useful information and links, including My Library Account at the bottom of the webpage which allows you to manage your loans, reserve books and pay fines. Also nearby is Cite them right, which is the UoS referencing guide.
